

OVERNIGHT CAMP HANDBOOK

YOUNGLIVES SUMMER EXPERIENCE 2021

Dreaming and planning for what camp can look like this year, as you're not camping at a Young Life property, may make you feel excited and jazzed, or it might make you feel apprehensive and stuck. Or you might be feeling ALL the feels about camp this year. We hear you, and we get it!

We want all of our teen parents to feel engaged and to be excited. We want them to experience creativity and adventure and surprise like they could at a YoungLives week, regardless of where or how they experience camp. We want areas to be able to stay safe and healthy but still be together!

The resources provided in this handbook, along with the SE21 digital content, will help you plan for a locally managed YoungLives camping experience and help your campers have "the best week of their lives"! Use the following resources to plan how your area and/or region can hold outreach camp locally this year as an overnight retreat/camp.

What is a SE21 Overnight Retreat/Camp?

This is a summer camp experience hosted by a local area or region enabling leaders, teen moms, babies and childcare to be together for several days in a location that permits overnight stays such as a church, lake house or local camp property. This experience can last as long as you'd like, but plan to include four different club times. We would suggest a two or three night camp duration.

There are many things to consider as you plan your overnight retreat/camp. This handbook is meant to be a guide to help you think through logistics, possibilities and important details. However, use your creativity to imagine and produce an engaging experience for your time together!

Please Refer to the following when planning:

*2021 YoungLives In Person Nationally & Locally Managed Overnight Camping

*Best Practices For Local Area In-Person Gatherings

Young Life Camping 2021

Young Life Camping desires to clear away the noise, clutter and chaos from kids' lives to allow the gospel to enter. In order to do this well, Young Life National has set out some guidelines to help frame what camp looks like in 2021 and what goals we should all strive toward. Throughout this handbook, the national camping information and systems, as well as Connect Camp, are referred to and referenced. Please go to the Young Life Camping 2021 page for more information.

The camp experience starts and ends at home. Every effort should be made to minimize interactions with the general public prior to attending your camp event and after returning home.

"Camp" must be the following:

- A relationship between a Young Life leader and participants at the event
- An event that involves at least one-night stay, is a consecutive multi-day event or is a one-day event that is over 8 hours
- A program that is directed by Young Life staff or volunteers
- Gospel proclamation messages presented (outreach focused)
- A "cabin-time" reflection opportunity with kids/leaders
- An invitation for kids to trust and follow Jesus

Core Camping Values:

- Proclaim the gospel and give kids the space to respond.
- Leaders and kids go together.
- Program led by staff or volunteers. Keep your wigs handy!
- Kids experience fun and adventure.
- More on these core values can be found here.

Habits for Camp:

- #1: Handwashing when students arrive and before meals.
- #2: Eliminate high contact games.
- #3: Dub someone a "housekeeper" who can disinfect high touch areas regularly.
- #4: Contact the local health department 2-4 weeks before to give them a heads up (can also help calm fears if they sign off).

Safety

Masks

Masks will be required for all people at any Young Life camp (regardless of camp type or location) whenever they are indoors, except while eating or when in their sleeping space. Masks will also be required outdoors when distance cannot be maintained. This is mission-wide regardless of state mandates or removal of mandates.

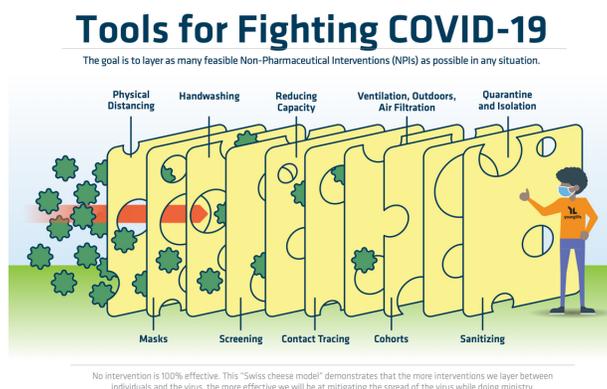

- Everyone will need to be prepared to use their own masks while at camp.
- It is recommended that masks be double-layered and that everyone pack multiple masks for use throughout their stay.

Meeting Guidelines

As you plan for camp, please make sure all your plans are consistent with our Best Practices For Local Area In-Person Gatherings for YoungLives in the U.S. and our 2021 In-Person YoungLives Camping Recommendations document. Please continue to be aware of what your state requires regarding group gathering and safety. Contact your local health offices to make sure you are in compliance.

Best practice suggests that groups should be divided into cohorts during activities and that cabin groups stay separated during the day. Beds/sleeping areas should be separated by six feet, or by sleeping campers foot to foot, so their heads are at least 6 feet apart. Please contact Risk Management at 719-867-3600 if you have questions.

Young Life's guidance on cleaning, disinfecting, and fighting COVID-19 can be found here: <https://ministryguidance.younglife.org/health-and-safety/#procedures>

Putting Together Your Assigned Team

While the SE21 Camp ATeam has done much of the 'up front' production by providing program, musician, and speaker, there are several key roles still needed to help your camp week be successful. However, if you want to supplement or replace any or all of the digital camp roles with live people, do what works for you and your area. Your camp event is yours to create, but the SE21 team has tried to take some of the 'production' heavy lifting off of your plate!

Local Area/Regional Camp Director: This person would be in charge of the overall camp week/retreat/set of events. They would begin the planning of camp; manage all of the finances and logistics; lead the local ATeam, delegating tasks as needed; and lead everyone during the actual week/retreat/events.

Head Leaders: Head Leaders for SE21 Camping are one of the most important roles on the team. The number of Head Leaders needed should be based on the size/length/scope of your camp week/retreat/events. For a small area, perhaps one Head Leader will be enough. For an entire region, you might need a Head Leader team (three to four people) to assist the Director with the major parts of the camp week/retreat/events. Head Leaders can act as assistants to the director by taking pieces of the camp week/retreat/events off the Director's plate and running with them. They could run a sound check; set up activities and game supplies; administer all the forms, medicines, etc.; keep everyone on schedule; and organize transportation.

Include them early on in the planning process, and share the camp planning documents and schedule, or the "matrix", with them. Help them understand the schedule, explaining how everything works together to create the week, and ask them to help you think through questions about camp. Is there a way you can be caring for the leaders and volunteers? Is there a detail, like coordinating meals or volunteers, that would otherwise be very time consuming of the director's schedule?

Junior Leaders: SE21 is a great way to engage and connect your Junior Leaders (older girls who have already been to camp once or twice and in whom you see leadership potential). You can give them one aspect of your camp week/retreat/events to plan and execute with help/guidance from a Head Leader or their mentor. Perhaps one of them is very creative. Could she help with decorations or gifts/swag for your campers? Or perhaps you have a girl who's very technically inclined. Could she help with social media promotions or running sound for the week? Or maybe another one loves to cook. Could she help organize snacks and meals for your camp week/retreat/events?

Childcare Coordinator: If you are providing childcare for your campers' children, you need a person to coordinate the people caring for them; plan how nurseries should be set up; determine what gear is needed; help train your childcare; and ensure everyone's safety. This person must have previous childcare experience and should be brought in early in the planning stages.

Childcare: Please refer to the YoungLives Restarting protocols and your state's guidance when planning events with children. In order to provide care for children during your camp week/retreat/events, you will need to have several volunteers that can commit to the entire event and be okay with the safety restrictions that Young Life, YoungLives, and your local county/state have put in place. We suggest that you use a 1:1 or 2:1 ratio of children to childcare; so for smaller events, you will not have a large childcare team. But for larger, region-wide events, you will need to have a substantial team in place. Please make sure all of your state's and local childcare guidance rules are followed. Please also make sure that all of your childcare have gone through the Young Life volunteer process (see Volunteer Paperwork section below) and have been trained about how to care for children. We suggest utilizing the training resources in the YoungLives Childcare Handbook. Please read through and have knowledge of all of Young Life's Childcare Policies.

Prayer Team: Pray, pray, pray! In order for any camp event to go well and for campers to clearly hear the gospel, it must be covered in prayer. Ask your donors, committee, friends and family to commit to pray for your camp event before, during, and after the event.

Location

When thinking through overnight location options, talk to your local Young Life staff to see if they have previously hosted overnight staff or camp events. They may know of location possibilities that YoungLives hasn't used before.

Are there any small camps or retreat centers near you? Are there mission organizations that have properties with housing? Do you have donors/mentors/committee members that could help you rent a house or property through Airbnb or VRBO? Remember that staying closer to home can make Young Life transportation and COVID travel regulations easier to follow.

Remember to guarantee your overnight location will be safe for babies and kids, including all the porches, stairs, doors and windows. Ensure there is enough space for your activities and nurseries, as well as spaces to sleep, eat and play safely for your volunteers, childcare, staff, mentors, campers and children.

Nurseries should have no more than 10-12 children in a room, by area.

Good, flexible outdoor spaces are a must! Events and meals should be held outdoors whenever possible. Are there adequate restrooms and bathing facilities? Are there spaces to spread out in if there is inclement weather and outside is not feasible?

Stable internet and technical equipment/possibilities are also important pieces to consider when trying to find a location. If you can't access the digital content in a way where everyone can engage, you will struggle through your clubs and activities.

Transportation

There are a couple of important practices Young Life will be requiring no matter what form of transportation you select for this summer.

1. All passengers will be required to wear a mask at all times while in transit, unless they are eating or drinking.
2. A transportation agreement must be completed for all passengers.

All drivers who are driving others on behalf of Young Life for your event are required to fill out the Driver's Questionnaire on Staff Resources.

Visit the Ministry Guidance site to read the transportation FAQs and for more detailed information.

Volunteers

Volunteers are vital to the success of your camp experience! Find a volunteer's strengths and place them where they will be successful. For instance, if a person isn't excited to work one-on-one with campers or children, have them run errands or help with set-up and clean up. Here are some examples of potential volunteer roles (one person could fill two or more roles):

Lead volunteer: someone to oversee and direct team

Medical personnel/team: A doctor, nurse or EMT. Depending on the size of your group, more than one might be helpful. This is highly recommended.

"Housekeeper": someone to ensure cleaning and safety practices are understood clearly and followed diligently, especially in 'high touch areas'

Food: set tables, bag lunches, organize food and distribution, serve food, clean up

Supplies: someone to organize and distribute

Aesthetics: someone to work on decorations

Nurseries: childcare volunteers, work on nurseries set up, buy and organize toys, physically set up rooms, clean up

Check-in/out: Keeping track of campers and kids

Runners: To get necessities, pass messages and find answers

Photographers: Record the fun, smiles and life-changing moments

"Summer Staff": Leaders for games & activities

Follow-up: "Thank you note" writer for those who did serve

Lifeguard: If open water is present, a trained guard on duty is vital for safety.

Training & Devotionals

Before camp, all leaders and childcare will need training. Please contact your area to get connected with the YL Access training videos via RightNow Media. For childcare-specific training, please refer to the childcare section.

Resources for devotionals will be linked in the SE21 online leader toolkit. We will also be providing a resource for devotions and/or follow-up on the Bible App that leaders and girls can use after camp.

Ways to Engage the Digital Resources

Resources Offered:

- *Program *Seminars *Childcare Devotionals *Children's Activities
- *Club Talks *Training *Leader Devotionals *Music

The SE21 Camp ATeam has provided the digital content for four clubs. Local areas should provide an emcee to lead from piece to piece. The videos can be organized and played in order, like a club at camp. Or they can also be used in whatever order you see fit. Want to provide your own program? Great! Have a local musician your girls really love? Awesome! Replace any of these elements with live, local content if you'd like. You don't need to use all of the resources provided.

Activity "sells" and lead-ins will be provided in the program videos to set up local areas for games and raffles. Please be prepared to respond to cues by program for games and prizes by watching the videos in advance. Cues will also be included in toolkit.

Be vigilant about sound and projection. Fantastic club resources will be a huge miss if girls can't hear or see it! Don't neglect the important technological details like sound equipment, projector/screen, or flat screen TV with streaming capability, speakers, and microphone for your emcee.

Consider planning a time at the beginning of each day for your team to engage with leader and childcare devotionals. Leader meetings and childcare club are both a vital part of camp. Think through how you can offer times of devotions and encouragement. Head Leaders could use this time every day to check in with leaders for training and trouble shooting.

For girls that can't attend your event, plan to stream the clubs via Zoom and have them watch with an available mentor. They can participate in cabin time this way too! Be sure to take precautions to keep crashers and zoom-bombers out. Consult Young Life's Zoom ministry guidance for tips.

Kids activities and content can be utilized by your childcare team in any way they see fit. You can add your own activities as well. The Childcare Coordinator or nursery leaders will need to be familiar with content and have a schedule/ supplies/resources. Streaming devices may be necessary.

Activity Suggestions

There is lots of time in the overnight schedule for activities. While Young Life is encouraging non-high contact games, here are some suggestions of activities your group can try together:

- Zumbini
- Karaoke
- Dance party/competition
- Outings to the zoo, aquarium, park, or splash pad
- Crafts/DIY (ie Framed Polaroids, keepsake handprint, etc.)
- Spa Day
- Field Games
- Messy Games or Color Wars

Administrative Details

Budget: An overnight retreat/camp will cost more than either a day camp or a fully virtual option. Capernaum has created a budget resource to help you think through some of the basic expenses. If you haven't run a camp trip or an overnight before, you may want to ask your Area Director or YoungLives Regional Coordinator for help.

What can you get donated for the event, and what will have a cost attached? Consider your expenses like location, food, baby and mom supplies, care packages, and gifts for mentors and childcare. Will you be giving a gift to staff or volunteers involved (in-person program, in-person speaker/seminar leaders)? Will you have someone come to your event for a special activity (exercise class or mani/pedis, etc.), needing to purchase supplies or pay them? Will you be providing t-shirts for camp?

Once you have considered your expenses, think through how you will cover them. Will your teen moms/childcare/mentors pay a registration fee? Will you ask donors to help cover the cost? If you will be collecting a registration fee, think through how you will collect this when they register, including how you will collect payments and a schedule for these.

Fundraising: People are often willing to give towards a camp experience! Once you have a plan for your camp, share that vision and ask how people would like to help. Create a plan for how people can sponsor the event. Have a supply drive or connect with supporters by setting up a registry so people can purchase items and have them sent to you (Amazon is a great way to do this). Create sponsorship tiers, such as "donate $50 to purchase t-shirts for campers" or "donate $100 to provide snacks for cabin time conversations", etc. People love to know exactly what they are giving towards. Contact local restaurants and businesses to see if you can get pizzas, sandwiches, or meals donated. Many groceries stores will donate gift cards towards events.

Scholarships: Young Life is granting Hard to Fund Scholarships again this year. Apply by April 15th here: Hard to Fund 2021 Application.

Registration: To plan well, you need to know who is coming! Create a form to have your teen moms and babies register for camp. This will help you plan meals, childcare needs, space, etc. You can create a free basic form in Google Forms. Or you can use YL Connect to make a registration page. Include things like name, contact information, number of children and ages, food allergies, transportation needs, and if you are providing t-shirts, ask for the t-shirt sizes of moms and kids.

It might be helpful for you to use the YoungLives Child Information Sheet to get as much information about the children in your care as possible. A great way to communicate between camper and nursery, it has a sleeping release, feeding instructions, and general care instructions for each child.

Young Life documents: If your camp event has met the criteria of a “Camp Activity at a Non-Young Life-Owned Facility”, you will need to fill out an N-Form.

Medical forms: If you are planning any in-person camp activities there are health forms and waivers to fill out. Each day a COVID Health Screening Form will need to be filled out by each teen mom (for themselves and their children) and each volunteer and staff.

In addition to this daily health screening, there are different health forms based on the duration of your event. If it is less than 72 hours long, then each adult, camper and baby must fill out YL1717-Consent and Release (transportation agreement is included). If it is longer than 72 hours, the YL6007 health form will need to be filled out. Activity waivers and health forms (general, not COVID specific) can be found on Staff Resources, where it explains which forms to fill out based on your activity and possible transportation. Please also check with your local Young Life Area Director or YoungLives Regional Coordinator to see if there are specific forms that are necessary for your state or county. Regulations and restrictions are constantly changing with COVID, so check again right before your event to ensure all necessary transportation and health forms are completed for your group.

All camping-related (COVID and trip) forms and information can be found here: <https://ministryguidance.younglife.org/forms/>.

Volunteer documents: Anyone volunteering during your camp is considered a Young Life volunteer and must have proper paperwork on file: a Criminal Background Check, Faith & Conduct form and at least 2 character references (kept on file with your area). These are tracked in Volunteer Manager on Staff Resources, so you will need to be sure each person is entered (husbands and wives, as well as parents and children, are submitted separately) and that their documents are complete. If you do not have access to add volunteers, please contact a staff person in your area or the YoungLives camp team. It can take a few weeks to process the background check, especially with COVID-19 related delays, so please plan ahead! They must be entered and start their paperwork at least a month before your camp starts. If they have not been cleared in the Young Life system, they can not be a volunteer during your camp week in any capacity.

Encouragement

As you plan, don't forget to consider ways you can encourage and thank your volunteers! Show appreciation in tangible ways. Anything elaborate or expensive isn't necessary; just consider ways you can encourage them during camp, as they are vital to the success of your event.

Gift bags/totes/baskets full of goodies are a great idea for your volunteers. More involved volunteers like mentor/leaders and childcare workers could receive gifts requiring more cost or time to assemble. Other volunteers can be thanked with smaller items and/or thank you cards. Pinterest & Etsy have many great idea for gift tags, some you can print yourself and some to purchase.

Here are some other ideas for gift bags/appreciation gifts:

- Use a tote bag for the gift bag – sturdy and practical
- Reusable Water Bottle with YoungLives logo or Young Life logo
- Breath Mints and/or candy (all individually packaged)
- Energy bars/granola bars/trail mix (all individually packaged)
- Personal care items like chapstick, hand lotion, earplugs (especially if they are rooming with others), bug spray (if you will be outside), sunblock (small)
- Ball caps with YoungLives logo (or any color really)

After camp, be sure to thank ALL the other volunteers and donors who helped make camp happen. Thank you notes, especially with pictures of our teen parents and babies make a huge impact!

Meals

Seating Suggestions:

When weather permits, serving meals outdoors is preferred. Sit in a circle and in cabin groups whenever possible. Round tables or picnic blankets in a circle on the ground or lawn work well. Try to have at least one to two leaders per group.

Things to consider when serving meals:

How many meals and snacks will need to be served?

Who will safely serve meals to girls? Will it be leaders, volunteers or committee?

There should be designated servers wearing gloves, masks, and using utensils to place food portions on people's plates, with only one person touching utensils.

Should the meals be prepackaged/pre-prepared delivered to tables/groups or will they be served cafeteria style with distancing? Prepackaged food is the safest way to have food at your event, but for non-packaged foods, make sure it is served safely (see above).

Would it be best to serve meals on disposable items for easy clean up and to minimize germ spread?

Will a rotating schedule of groups help with distancing? This may require a pre-lunch activity that girls are released from one group at a time.

Things to consider when planning your menu:

What will the menu for the week look like? You can make meals fun by changing them up each day: order food from restaurants; have small groups from local churches prepare and serve meals; or ask committee to help prepare and serve meals. You can also ask restaurants or your venue for donations. Hire a food truck! Remember to consider food allergies, finding out what they are beforehand to prepare accordingly.

Gear needed:

Items should include tables (for separate serving and eating); chairs or blankets; high chairs, sanitation supplies for surfaces (see Safety section); handwashing stations or hand sanitizer; extra chairs or blankets; gloves; disposable plates & utensils or packaging. Additional supplies could include hula hoops for spacing, trash cans & bags, utensils, individual beverages, plates, napkins, take-out containers, meal bags.

Supplies

Housekeeping supplies: Clorox wipes; spray bottles and bleach; hand sanitizer, disposable masks (adult and child sizes); trash cans and bags; thermometer and first aid kit; other cleaning supplies. No commercial supplies are necessary--only household products should be used. For more information, please see:

<https://ministryguidance.younglife.org/health-and-safety/#procedures>

Childcare: diapers in multiple sizes; baby wipes; trash receptacles; age-appropriate toys; water; tables; changing areas with supplies; rockers for infants, strollers (if needed), blankets for outdoor ground play; Bumbos/chairs/high chairs/places for babies to sit or lay; walkie-talkies for inter-nursery or staff communication; labels/masking tape; snacks for children; extra clothes for babies

Club: Prizes prepped for clubs, swag giveaways (t-shirts, bags, stickers, sweatshirts, etc.), raffle tickets, sound & projection equipment, extension cords, Game supplies, cameras/photographer

Cabin Time: 'Cabin Time Boxes' with supplies for groups like Bibles, journals, pens, verse cards, cabin time questions, 'talking stick'; tents or canopy coverings (especially in hot climates)

Activities: Game supplies, 'messy games' clothes, bottles of water, trash cans/bags

Overnight stay supplies: sleeping linens or sleeping bags; beds/cots; Pack'n'Plays; extra toiletries

Social Media

What will be the hashtag for your camp experience? Consider a unique tag for your local area. Tag everything with #younglivesSE21

T-shirts

The SE21 ATeam will provide an available design template you can use as a part of the camp toolkit. Or you can design your own!

Consider making t-shirts for campers, children, and your team of staff and volunteers. Giving t-shirts to your mentor/leaders, childcare team and set up/meal volunteers helps to identify them as a part of your team. It also helps your campers know which belong on their team, and it promotes unity. Consider a different color t-shirt with the same design for the various parts of your group.

Be sure to know what your plan is before you order, as you will need to be sure you order enough for all the campers and volunteers. Try to get the sizes of your campers and volunteers as soon as they sign up so you can have an accurate order.

Human Resources and Red Card

Because teen parents are remaining home, they may be even more guarded than if they were away at camp. They may not report abuse as easily because they are remaining at home during this time. Do not "fish" for anything, but if something comes up the Incident Response Team will help to come up with a safety plan.

Young Life's Incident Response Team is still in place to receive and handle calls from staff and volunteers about abuse. Young Life's current protocol as mandated reporters is still in effect, so please advise staff and volunteers to call the Incident Response Team if someone reveals they are being abused.

The number to the Incident Response Team (Red Emergency Card) is 800-999-8661.
